The Eagle

Brentwood, Missouri
Volume 35 1967

Foreword:

Just what is a yearbook? Webster defines it as, "A book, as of the facts of a year, published yearly." Yet, a yearbook is something more. A yearbook is a book of memories, of feelings captured in pictures and words. One might say that the purpose of a yearbook is to enable people to thumb through its pages and recall how much fun it was to do this thing or that thing. A yearbook fulfills its purpose when it can make the reader say, "I remember that!" With this purpose in mind, the 1967 Eagle presents This Was The Year That Was.

This Was The Year That Was really started in March of 1966. The track team did exceptionally well as it took several big meets, including the State Championship.

BHS had its first Spring Festival of Arts with contributions from the art, music, and dramatic departments.

The senior student council sponsored the annual talent show that catered to the students' tastes.

The school slept for a short three months.

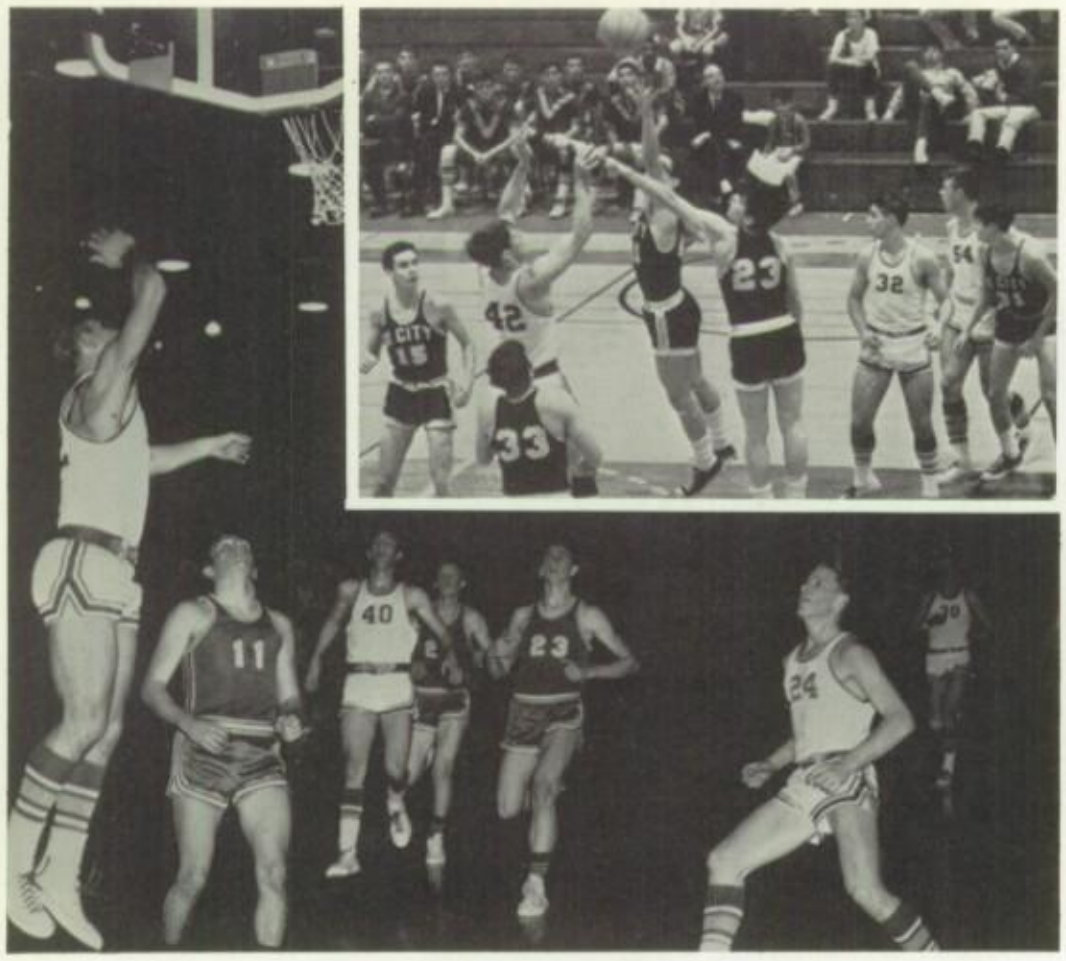
The '66 football Eagles had their second undefeated season, beating eight more opponents and bringing their winning streak to nineteen games.

In September everyone returned to renew old friendships. BHS had two new foreign students, Kaoru Ando of Japan and Mimi Jankovic of Yugoslavia.

For the first time, the junior high put on three plays, while a troupe of senior high players produced a drama for the elementary schools.

GAA again had intramural and interschool hockey and started a program of varsity hockey.

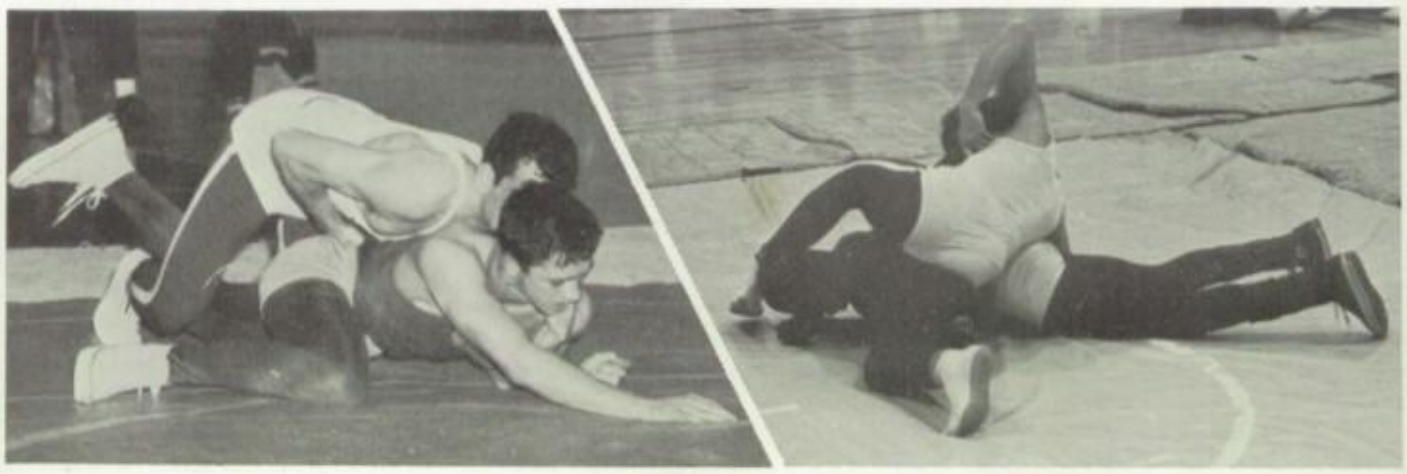
Instead of the traditional squad of five, this year the cheerleaders came on seven strong.



The '66-'67 basketball team had a new coach, new warm-ups, and new socks.

The Theory and Harmony class wrote a song that became an original pep song for BHS.

Drill Team marched at home games.

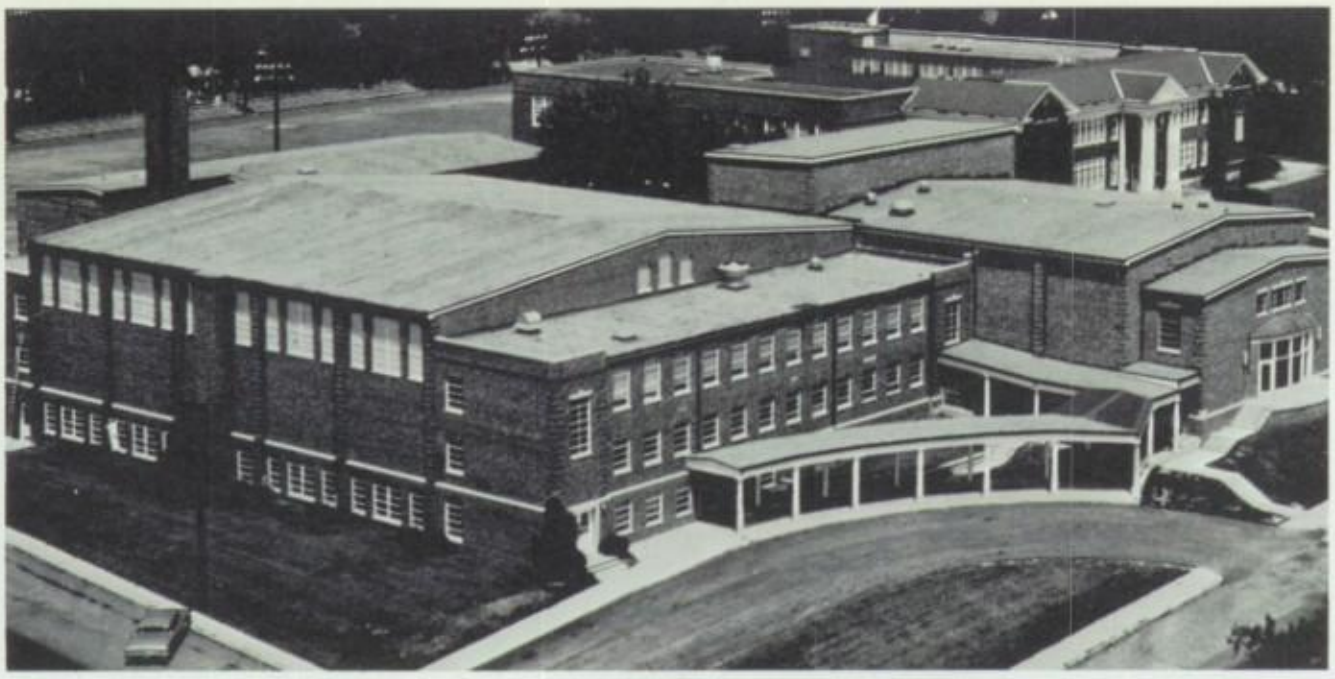


Wrestling had its first year as a full-fledged varsity sport.

To meet academic needs of the BHS student, study booths were installed near the library.

To earn money, the Junior Class sponsored a basketball game between the faculty and the KXOK All-Stars.

Students enjoyed a variety of different assemblies.



1967 was the 40th anniversary of BHS. The cornerstone for the main building was laid in 1927. Since that time the school has expanded from a mere eight classrooms to a campus of four main buildings plus an athletic field.

Everyone enjoyed the annual Senior-Faculty game.

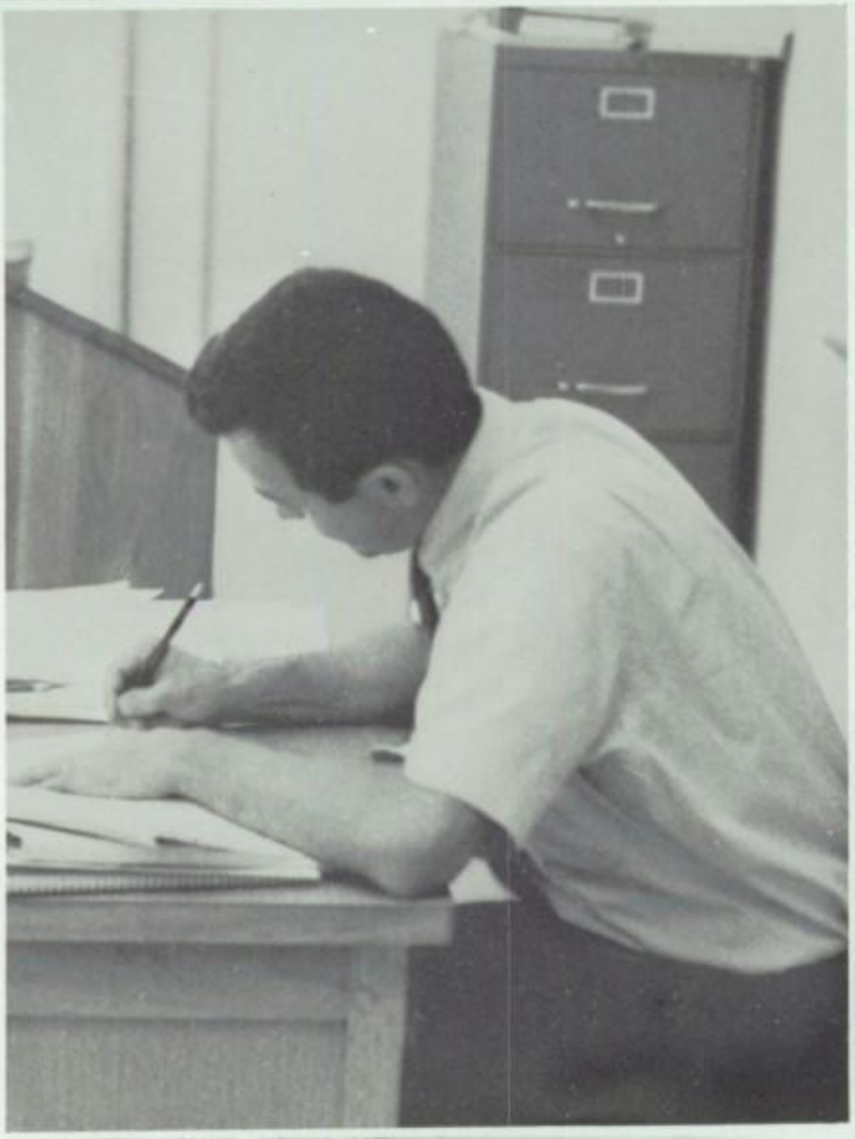
1967 Eagle Dedicated To Jerome Burgoyne

Mr. Edward Jerome Burgoyne



In the four years that Mr. Burgoyne has been at BHS, he has willingly devoted his talents to further the education and interests of his students.

His influence on sports has been outstanding. For two consecutive years, the track team won the State Meet. Directing the new cross country team, Mr. Burgoyne has stimulated great interest in the sport. He has also been a Freshman Basketball Coach.

Equally important has been his ability to promote the academic spirit and citizenship of the students at BHS.

The Curious Savage Stalks The Stage At BHS

Lily Belle, Samuel, and Titus, Mrs. Savage's step-children, are arguing how to persuade their mother to tell where she has hidden the bonds. Mrs. Savage listens unenthusiastically with the bonds safely stuffed in the teddy bear which is beside her.

CAST

Mrs. Savage . . . . . Kathy Phillips
Lily Belle . . . . . Laurie McDade
Judge Samuel . . . . . Paul Meyers
Titus . . . . . Sigi Offenbach
Fairy Mary . . . . . Jackie Redman
Florence . . . . . Jan Widtfeldt
Mrs. Paddy . . . . . Pam Plagenz
Hannibal . . . . . Steve Much
Jeff . . . . . Mike Hennon
Miss Willie . . . . . Mary Ellen Moskoff
Dr. Emmett . . . . . Joe Epstein

Florence hesitatingly hands Mrs. Savage a newspaper while the others watch fearfully.

Miss Willie and Dr. Emmett approach Mrs. Savage who is reading the story of her stolen bonds.

The Curious Savage was presented on November 17 and 18, 1966. It is the humorous story of an aging woman who is extravagantly spending her money on other people. Her greedy stepchildren place her in a sanitarium to stop her wasteful spending. However, Mrs. Savage has secretly hidden the bonds and neglects to tell her stepchildren where. Meanwhile, she is exposed to an entirely different way of life inside the sanitarium. In the end, the audience wonders which is more normal, the insane outside world represented by the Savage family, or the contented way of life in the sanitarium.

Joan De Margel, Jacque Prade, Chris Yoder, and Nancy Reid are caught spying in a scene from Bull In A China Shop.

The spring of 1966 brought to BHS Bull In A China Shop. This is the quaint story of seven elderly ladies who secretly fall in love with a dashing young detective living near them. This year, for the first time, three one act plays were produced entirely by Jr. High students. The Hitch Hiker was a mysterious radio play which held its audience in suspense. A representation of a melodrama was seen when Fireman Save My Child was presented. The Clocks reproduced a single space of time and showed how people conform to society.

The old ladies and detectives observe as stretcher bearers remove a dead body. They are: Chris Yoder, Zach Cartwright, Kathy Conner, Kathy Willey, Nancy Reid, Jacque Prade, Richard Oppenheim, Jerry Mayfield, and Mike Hennon. Joan De Margel is the dead body.

Sr. High crew members are, from left to right, Row one: G. Smith, J. Townsend, M. Bross, K. Scott, G. Sutton, C. Roper, P. Estaque, D. McNair, D. Pribble, C. Corey, D. Taylor, H. Derickson, R. Success Comes From Behind The Scenes

The greatest show on earth goes on behind the scenes. It's true, there's nothing quite like being backstage on opening night. In the air is a friendly feeling of people working together. Crews are blending to create a single effect.

For quite awhile people have been working on sound, set construction, stage crews, lighting, publicity, costumes, properties, and make-up. It has been a constant mixture of hard work and fun. Soon the long awaited moment will come as a low voice whispers across the stage, "curtain up."

Jr. High crew members are, left to right, Row one: T. Heapes, C. Keast, C. Webster, J. Boehne, A. Richardson, L. Snyders, P. Armsey, B. Phelps, L. Vocke, J. Geppert, S. Schott. Row two: L. Thespians Enchant BHS Audiences

Nancy Reid and Joel Hodapp acquired the 50 points necessary for becoming lifetime members of Thespians. They also were elected as Best Thespians of the year.

Mr. Harold Becker and Mr. David Ryan are the Thespian sponsors.

Thespian officers are, Row one: Reggie Parsons, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Reid, president; Kathy Phillips, historian. Row two: Joel Hodapp, vice-president; Jan Widtfeldt, clerk; Bob Clemens, parliamentarian.

Thespians is an organization composed of students who are extremely interested in dramatics. To become a Thespian apprentice, it is necessary to earn 5 points by working on plays. When 10 points have been obtained, a student is a member of Thespians. Besides helping with plays, Thespians also hold workshops in which students may learn about crews and techniques of acting.

French Club Unites To Learn Together

This was the year that French Club was consolidated into one large organization composed of members from first, second, third, and fourth year French classes. Among the activities enjoyed by members were several guest speakers and a banquet. The club stimulated an interest in the French language and culture while providing an opportunity for members to speak French in a casual setting.

Future Teachers Association gave its members a taste of teaching this year. The members took an active part in the BHS underachiever program. Their duties included operating micro-film readers, acting as library assistants, and taking attendance.

FTA also had several guest speakers at its monthly meetings. The speakers gave its members an idea of what teaching is like.

The officers and sponsor of FTA also attended a teachers' workshop at Missouri University. They learned what composes a good FTA and how to make the club meetings run well.

This year, thirty-one students pursued an interest in biology beyond classwork by joining Biology Club. The club took field trips, watched films, and prepared reports.

Journalism II "The Year

This was the year the Journalism II students put their learning into practice. After studying the basic fundamentals of journalism last year, they were put to the task of publishing a newspaper, the Eaglet, and a yearbook, the Eagle.

However, along with the work came a lot of fun and great experiences. The atmosphere was generally light within Room 137. Working together as a team, the staff completed assignments amidst the rush to meet various deadlines.

Journalism isn't all work! Debbie Bird and Beth Roper demonstrate their artistic abilities to Sue Max and Dick Oppenheim.

The Journalism II students have worked to create accurate records of the happenings at BHS. They have recorded the joys and disappointments of the 1966-67 school year in an honest manner. These recordings have been printed for your knowledge and enjoyment.

Under the supervision of Mr. Tom Moore, the sponsor of the publications, the "wrinkles were ironed out," and the finished products are presented to BHS.

Accomplishing a productive year was the goal of the 1966-67 Senior Student Council. Traditional council events took place: the Christmas canned-food drive; Yearbook Signing Party; Senior Week; and Talent Show.

The council also created several original ideas, which were presented to the student body and received enthusiastically. Several outstanding assemblies were sponsored by the council, such as: the Modern Americans' musical program; an assembly honoring the undefeated Eagles, with Larry Wilson as guest speaker.

An old-fashioned Sadie Hawkin's Dance was planned as one of the highlights of Senior Student Council's year. Much thought and planning went into this dance. The girl asked the boy, and both dressed in costumes which played up the scenery of barns, hay-stacks, and a country scene in general.

Eagles Go Undefeated Again:

Co-captains this year are Doug Mackey and Al McCollough.

Once again the Eagles completed an undefeated year, taking the Little Six Championship. They played eight games and threw their opponents each time. The Eagle defense held the scoring attempts of their opponents to a total of 71 points, as compared to 306 points collected by the Eagles.

The championship is attributed to the Eagles as a whole team; however, there were several achievements by various individuals.

Russ Lake was high point man with a total of 66

Matmen Pin Success On Turnout Of 40

Wrestling, a young sport to BHS, is now in its second year and a promising future has been exhibited by an enthusiastic turnout of forty matmen.

Under the direction of Coach William Long, the matmen are gaining more and more experience with each team they oppose. Entering the South County league this year, the team competed against Faiview, Jennings, Berkeley, Clayton, Maplewood, Affton, and Hancock.

Eagle Cagemen

The 1966-67 basketball Eagles were characterized by several new aspects. The most prominent of these was their new coach, Mr. Paul Richardson. Along with the coach, the Eagles had several new starters and players who lacked experience. The Eagles' new look was also displayed in their uniforms, which included new purple and gold knee socks and warm-ups.

Final statistics showed John Edwards as the leading scorer with 330 points. Ben Kraft was second with 186. Edwards and Buckner were the leading rebounders, as Kraft showed the best defensive effort. Players having the best percentage for free throws and field goals were John Edwards and Tim Paul. Edwards was named to the All-Conference Second Team.

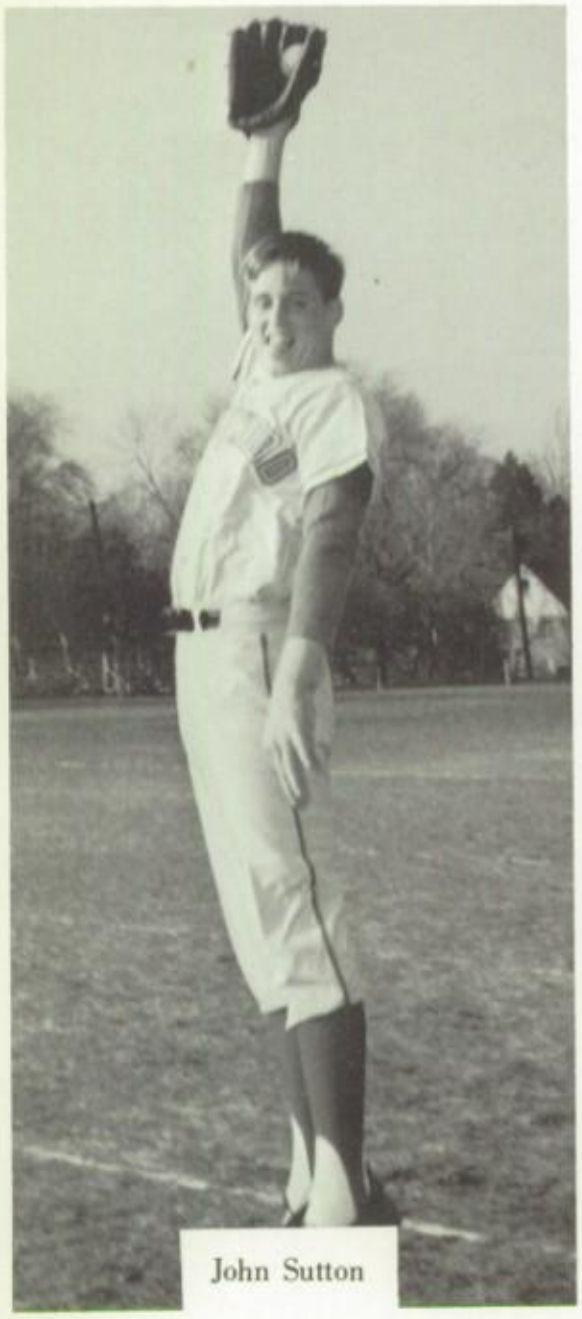
Four Versatile Baseball Lettermen Return



John Sutton

Brentwood returned only four baseball lettermen for the 1967 campaign. These four formed the base of the ball club. Each of the boys was versatile enough to play two positions. Don Berry played outfielder-catcher, and John Sutton was an outfielder-first baseman. Kurt Gebhard was an outfielder-pitcher, and Dick Oppenheim was a catcher-first baseman. The versatility of these four boys was needed to form the winning combination in 1967.

Berry, Sutton, and Oppenheim are seniors, and all are two year lettermen. Gebhard is a junior, and he also is a two year award winner.

The 1967 Eagle baseball team looked forward to a fine season. Although they compiled only a 5-10 record last year, their four returning lettermen sparked this year's club. Several of last year's losses came on close scores, and the Eagles hoped to turn the tables this year.

Standouts from last year's club who were missed in the 1967 campaign included the entire infield of Carl Dickman, Phil Cunetto, John Slazinik, and Mike Crump. Outfielders Dave Huffman and Steve Oliver were also gone, as were catcher Bill Hippert and pitcher Ritch White.

Pep Club Excels In Making Excitement

This was the year that Pep Club excelled in making excitement at BHS. This was done through many activities like the selling of spirit balloons, decorating the halls for spirit week, and making prom table decorations.

Pep Club also made the Eagle frames and welcome signs for all home football and basketball games.

Eaglettes Add Entertainment And Spirit

Swinging skirts . . . sparkling shakers . . . flashing smiles. All these things were noticeable in the 1966-67 Eaglettes. Drill Team added spirit and entertainment by marching at all home football games and several basketball games. The routines, created by the officers, were characterized by new bouncing steps and lively music.

One of the greatest academic honors a student may receive is being named to the Honor Roll, which is announced at the end of each semester. The qualifications for Honor Roll are rigid: 3 "A's" and nothing less than a "B" in any solid subject, and the student must demonstrate outstanding citizenship qualities.

The greatest reward of being named to the Honor Roll is the personal satisfaction which results from knowing a task has been performed to the best of one's ability. The names on the BHS Honor Rolls are those of outstanding students and the leaders of tomorrow.

These students are to be congratulated for their fine efforts and achievements in scholastic endeavors. The Eagle salutes all members of the 1966 Spring and Fall Honor Rolls.

The BHS chapter of National Honor Society is an organization which recognizes achievement in the fields of leadership, scholarship, character and service.

Membership is based upon a 3.0 accumulative grade point average and recommendations by four teachers. The members must be re-evaluated for membership every semester.

Sophomores may join the club as provisional members. At the end of this year long membership, they are recognized as full members of the club at an installation ceremony.

This past year has been one of NHS' busiest years. The members have rated teachers and tutored in the Underachievers Program. Also, the club has composed a curriculum guide for student use.

Quill And Scroll Promotes Sound Journalism

This year eleven students were selected for membership to Quill and Scroll. Since Brentwood High was granted a charter in 1958, many Journalism II students have been elected to this international honor society for high school journalists.

To become a member of Quill and Scroll, a student must have contributed to the publication of either the Eagle or the Eaglet. He also must be in the upper third of his class in scholastic standing, and he must be recommended by the sponsor.

Quill and Scroll was organized to promote outstanding achievement in the field of journalism.

Seniors Gain Honors Through Academic Achievement

Last fall, thirty-one seniors received recognition from their classmates in the traditional election of senior honors.

Three areas were considered in choosing students — personality, talent, and achievement. Ballots included a section explaining every honor and a list of senior class members.

The results of the election were posted outside of the Journalism room.

After months of preparation and a week of final touches, the junior class opened the doors to the 1966 Junior-Senior Prom. The theme of the prom, Days of Wine and Roses, was highlighted by pink walls, rose trees, and a multitude of roses at the entrance and throne.

At 11:00, to commence the coronation, the junior girls formed two rows on either side of the runway to the throne. First to enter was the retiring queen, Linda Mackey, escorted by Doug Mackey. Next, Nancy Savage, Sarah Carter, and Ellsa Adams were escorted to the throne by Russ Lake, Paul Edenstrom, and Roy Cleveland. Retiring Queen Linda Mackey crowned the new queen, Sarah Carter.

Queen Sarah then led her court in the coronation dance, bringing to a close an evening to be remembered.

Two couples pose at entrance with the serving girls.

Jane Jansma and John Edwards enter the prom.

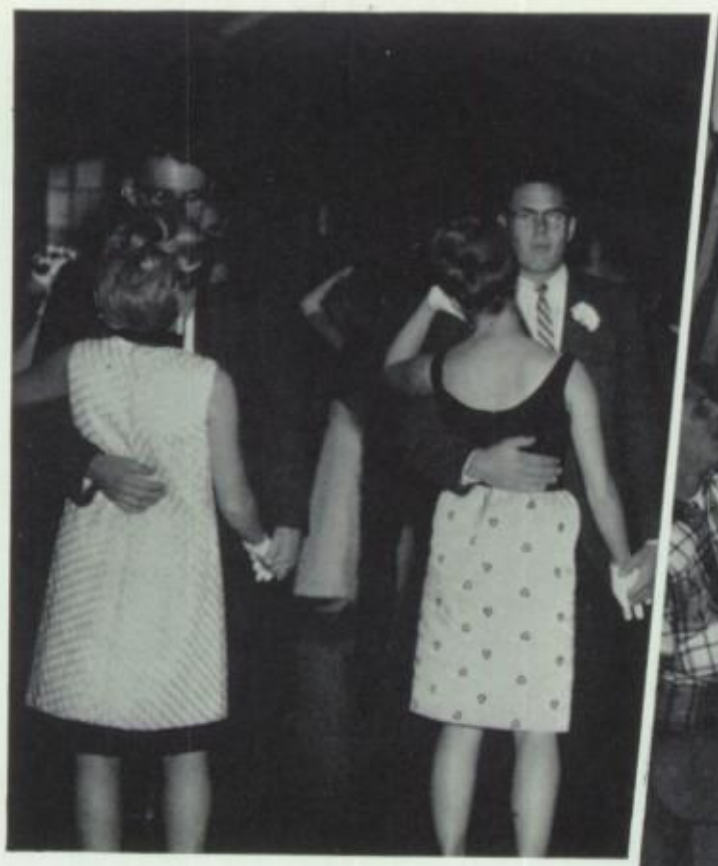
Retiring Queen

The annual Football Prom crowned the Eagles' second undefeated football season. Couples danced in the purple and gold decorated gym until the coronation began at 11:00. Escorted by co-captain Al McCollough, Retiring Queen Susan Richardson was the first to enter.

Maid Cathy Hippert followed, escorted by co-captain Doug Mackey. Next to appear was Maid Karen Janssen escorted by co-captain elect Chuck Roper. Last to make her appearance was the 1966 Football Queen, Cheri Bolling, escorted by co-captain elect Kurt Gebhard.



These pictures show various aspects of the 1966 Football Prom. After a week of hard work, a good time was had by all.

'68 Honors '67
At Prom

Each year in the springtime, the Junior Class honors the outgoing Senior Class by giving the Junior-Senior Prom.

All year the juniors worked hard to earn money for the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom. Following the example of previous classes, they gave a car wash, a bake sale, sold mums at the last football game, and sold candy at basketball games. A new product was to create and sell Brentwood sweatshirts. Juniors also sponsored a basketball game between KXOK All-Stars and the faculty.

Excitement mounted until the night of the prom and the long awaited coronation. Junior Class President Tom Henry served as master of ceremonies. First to enter was Retiring Queen Sarah Carter escorted by Tim Cook, vice president. Heads turned as Special Maid Nancy Neunuebel entered, escorted by Nick Ginos. Special Maid Kathy Reidenbaugh followed, escorted by Chuck Roper. The audience hushed in expectant silence as Kurt Gebhard escorted the 1967 Junior Senior Prom Queen, Jane Cole, to her throne.

Queen Jane and her court then led the traditional coronation dance. Soon, the crowd began to leave with many fond memories.
